Halco adds new Directory, Information Technology

Please join us in welcoming Mahesh Ariyakula to Halco who starts today as our Director, Information Technology. Reporting to Jay Weaver, Mahesh will assume responsibility for the strategic direction of our IT systems, process and roadmaps with James Warren and Santos Santiago reporting directly to him.

Mahesh comes to us with over fifteen years of leading the IT function and most recently was a IT Program Manager for Infosys for the past three years. Before that, he held a variety of program leadership roles for Accenture, Centers for Disease Control and GE Energy.

Mahesh has a BE from Bharathiar University and a MSME from the University of Dayton.
